Selection 2005- MEDA
Project ID	JEP-33070-2005
Project Type	MEDA 2005 Curriculum Development
Target Country	EG
Title	Adapting Egypt Sport Science Curricula to Job Market & Europe
Objective	To review and update the contents and structure of sport science curricula at the Helwan University Faculty of Physical Education for Girls in Gezira, Cairo, while also involving other Universities in Egypt, aiming at: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> o aligning the new Curricula to the European system and the Bologna process, with two main cycles, Bachelor & Master, the ECTS and related measures, thereby promoting mobility and the upgrading of students and Faculty, while more generally fostering mutual understanding and cooperation with European culture and society, in line with the Barcelona 1995 declaration encouraging Euromediterranean partnership; o updating study programs, particularly in the biomedical perspective, reflecting scientific and educational advances while reducing the gap between learning outcomes and social and job market requirements, thereby increasing the chances of graduates to find an occupation and addressing Egypt's new social and public health needs; o promoting teaching efficiency, with new study materials and modern technologies, while setting the basis for research developments and PhD programs, modernising the Faculty's organisation, library and laboratories, and implementing a scientific context, with special regard to biomedical issues, fostering collaboration with Medical Faculties and a broader understanding of the importance of physical activity in health, prevention and society.
